Class News! By: Tahir Johnson

The first week of classes were great. The students were great with making friends and getting along. Our first debate went great and the students learned how to work together even though they all had different personalities. The students are currently making chairs out of cardboard and so far its going great and the students are having a great time doing it!

Student of the week! By: Alycia Dunn

This week's student of the week goes to..... (drum roll) 8th grader Mr. Degerie Scott!!! I caught up with Degerie after getting this award and asked him how he felt and he told me, "I worked so hard for this award & when I got it, I was shocked and at a loss of words." I also asked him how does he plan to get this amazing award again and he told me," I plan to work harder than I did the first time I got the award. I say this because even though I made mistakes the first week, life is all about mistakes and it's up to me
